

An illustration of a woman in a long, flowing red dress with long sleeves and a high slit. She has a dark hair bun and is holding two thin sticks, each with a letter 'A' on a small white circle. Her head is surrounded by a crown of thin, dark lines radiating outwards, each ending in a small white circle containing a letter. To her right is a tall, thin, dark stem with several radiating lines, each ending in a small white circle with a letter. To her left is a shorter, similar stem with radiating lines and lettered circles. The background is a solid orange color.
